Dated Calcutta, the 11th April 1901

RESOLUTION

READ—

Letter No 4458, dated the 19th March 1901, from the Vice Chairman of the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta, submitting the Budget Estimate of the Howrah Bridge for the year 1901 1902

Receipts —The total receipts for the year 1901 1902 have been estimated at Rs 1,74,470 against Rs 1,68,050 of the previous year There is an increase of Rs 6,420 in this estimate based on actuals

2 Expenditure—The expenditure for the year 1901 1902 has been estimated at Rs 1,73,369 against Rs 1,84,006 of the previous year, showing a net decrease of Rs 10,637, though there are small increases under some of the heads amounting in all to Rs 4,073 The principal items of decrease are under the heads "Proportion of salaries of Control Establishment," "Proportion of Municipal Taxes and Repairs to Dockyard" and "Repairs" The largest item of increase is under the head "Ferry Steamer," under which an increased expenditure of Rs 3,753 has been provided This is due to a provision of Rs 30,000 having been made for the purpose of hiring a steamer of sufficient capacity in place of the ferry steamer Buckland, which is now found to be inadequate to meet the present requirements of the ferry service, and which the Commissioners propose accordingly to dispense with The Howrah Bridge Fund opened on the 1st April 1901 with a credit balance of Rs 9,266, and is expected to close on the 31st March 1902 with a balance of Rs 10,367

3 The Lieutenant Governor sanctions the estimate under section 21 of Act IX (B C) of 1871

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORTS ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT OPERATIONS IN BENGAL DURING THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1900

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—LAND REVENUE

Calcutta, the 11th April 1901

RESOLUTION—No 1844L R

READ—

Letter No 212A, dated the 28th February 1901, submitting the Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending 30th September 1900

The Annual Survey and Settlement Reports, which were due to Government on the 15th of January, were received from the Board on the 7th March This delay was caused by the illness of the Superintendent of Surveys The Lieutenant Governor agrees with the remarks which the Board have made regarding the good work done by the tours and inspections of the officers in charge He is glad to learn that the Survey and Settlement Departments have worked in harmony during the past year, and that the rules framed as to the relations between the Survey Department and the kanungos of the Settlement Department have effectually removed the friction of last year

2 His Honour notices that the survey programme was not carried out in its entirety, but the explanations given for this are not very clear The upland area of North Monghyr turned out to be considerably less than was originally estimated The programme was still further affected, more as regards khanapuri than cadastral survey, by the order for the curtailment of operations in Darbhanga The Orissa and Chittagong Settlements have been brought to a successful end, but in Chittagong the recovery of survey costs has still to be completed The programme of the year's work in the Noakhali Government Estates has been completed with the exception of one estate, Chakla Bamni In Backergunge no fresh work was taken up in view of the pending settlement of the whole district In Saran the programme was, despite various difficulties, successfully carried out The Lieutenant Governor regrets that wrongly framed budget estimates should have caused the curtailment of the programme in Darbhanga In the case of the settlement of private estates in the Sonthal Parganas, the programme was a heavy one, and though excellent progress was made, it was found impossible to complete it The inference is that the programme must have been excessive The expenditure incurred on survey has been high as compared with previous years, one of the chief causes being the curtailment of the programme in the Darbhanga district, a result which was foreseen when the orders for curtailment were passed The chief cause, however, is to be found in the payment of charges, rightly debitable to the previous year, having been paid in this, regarding which the Lieutenant Governor entirely agrees with the stricture passed by the Board, for the system is financially and administratively wrong The Lieutenant Governor notices with pleasure the good work done by the kanungos in the disposal of khanapuri disputes

3 He has read with interest the report of the Settlement Officer of Bihar with regard to the effect of the Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act in facilitating the preparation of a record of rights, but he agrees with the Board that expedition may be overdone and that in some cases greater care was required at the time of attestation The Board are right in saying that the attestation should not be judged merely by the number of objections under section 103A which are upheld, but that it should be rather judged by the number of objections filed after attestation, and by this standard it appears that the attestation work has, on the whole, been carefully done

4 The Lieutenant Governor notices the difficulties that have beset the operations in Darbhanga, owing to the oppressive and unscrupulous action of certain landlords, with which, however, the Settlement Officer has fortunately been able to cope The illustrations given in paragraph 9 of Mr Kerr's report show the necessity of unfailing vigilance and scrutiny in the examination of all rent claims He trusts that the case reported of rewriting the jamabandi from the village map, after having the areas extracted, will not become common, but it is very evident that the acceptance of the rent statements of the landlords of this district require the most careful scrutiny The Settlement Officer of Bihar has reported a case in which the Assistant Settlement Officer dismissed a claim for rent as illegal under section 29, Bengal Tenancy Act It appears that the raiyats had filed a petition agreeing to the rent claimed, but as it was illegal, the officer rejected it On appeal to the Special Judge, the compromise was accepted, and the Advocate General has recorded that, in his opinion, the decision of the Court was right This is an important ruling, and a copy of the judgment and opinion should be sent for the information of Government The Lieutenant Governor has read with interest the remarks of the Settlement Officers on the transfers of occupancy rights in Saran, Darbhanga, and the Sonthal Parganas In the first two districts, the percentage of transfers is 7 87 and 2 44, respectively, over a period of ten years, and in neither does there appear at present to be any fear that the professional money lending class is to any serious extent acquiring occupancy rights to the detriment of the actual cultivators In Darbhanga the landlords, it is stated, do their best to prevent the professional money lender from getting any footing in their villages The statistics given for the Sonthal Parganas, show clearly that, even without any village supervising agency, the orders of 1887 prohibiting sales have been very fairly obeyed, and there is every reason to think that the action now being taken by the Settlement Officer with reference to transfers will confirm the impression that the endeavour to evade them is futile The efforts made by Government to protect the peasantry of the Sonthal Parganas from the devices of the money lenders have been hitherto successful His Honour notices the comparative ease and rapidity with which recoveries have been effected in Bihar, as compared with similar work in the wealthy districts of Chittagong and Tippera, where the percentage of recovery has been much lower and the cost correspondingly higher The reason may, perhaps, be found in the anxiety of the poorer raiyat of Bihar to possess that which may safeguard him in the possession of his lands

5 The Lieutenant-Governor thanks the Board and Mr Lyon for their careful and capable supervision of the settlement operations of the Province He acknowledges the great assistance given by the Survey Officers to the Settlement Department, and the thorough and careful work of Messrs Kerr and McPherson

ORDER—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it, with copies of the two Reports, be submitted to the Government of India

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1900

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL

Calcutta the 11th April 1901

RESOLUTION—No 1524Med

READ—

Report on the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal for the year 1900

Read also—

The Report for the year 1899 and the Resolution recorded by Government upon it

The total number of admissions into the five native asylums in Bengal increased from 220 to 234 The increase occurred in the asylums at Dullunda, Dacca, and Patna, and was largest at Dacca, where it occurred chiefly among criminal lunatics The same asylum shows a diminution in the number of recoveries considerably above the average, which is attributed to the large number of chronic cases of previous years remaining there The number of criminal lunatics admitted and re admitted in the course of the year is the largest on record during the last ten years, amounting to 124 The year closed with a total of 482 criminal lunatics in confinement, a number slightly in excess of the decennial average

2 Out of the total admissions of the year, in 80 cases only were the causes of insanity traced, in 58 of these it was physical, ganja smoking being, as usual, the potent factor in a majority of the cases The Lieutenant Governor regrets to notice that, in spite of repeated orders from Government no improvement has yet been attained in the preparation of the Medical History Sheet His Honour will, however, wait to see the effect of the remarks made in paragraph 5 of the Resolution recorded on the report for 1899

3 The improvement in the health of the inmates noticed during the last two years has unfortunately not been maintained during the year under review The number of admissions to hospital rose from 576 to 962, the increase occurring in the asylums at Dullunda, Dacca, and Cuttack, and being attributed to the unhealthiness of the towns where the asylums are situated The average daily number in hospital fell from 86 21 to 79 01 The percentage of death shows a slight increase, viz, from 9 63 to 10 68

4 Two escapes occurred in the course of the year—one from the Dullunda Asylum and the other from Dacca The warders in fault were punished in both instances

5 The receipts of the five asylums amounted to Rs 9,204, viz, Rs 3,199 from paying patients and Rs 6,005 from manufactures, against Rs 2,930 and Rs 5,428 in 1899 The total expenditure increased by Rs 7 358, which is attributed to larger expenditure under the heads of Diet and Public Works

6 It has been decided to construct a central lunatic asylum by an enlargement of the asylum at Berhampore, and to close the asylums at Dullunda, Patna, and Cuttack The work has been taken up, and will, it is hoped, be completed during the current year

7 In the European Asylum at Bhowanipore the number of patients remaining at the close of the year was 37 Sixteen were admitted in the course of the year, being three less than in the preceding twelve months The causes of insanity were traced in only eight cases The health of the patients shows a slight improvement, the rate of mortality being 10 32 against 10 96 in 1899 The total expenditure rose from Rs 20,452 to Rs 30,080, the increase occurring chiefly in Public Works charges Rs 15,263 were contributed by Government and Rs 14,817 received from paying patients The female ward was, as usual, overcrowded Plans for an enlargement of this ward have been prepared, and the work will shortly be taken in hand

8 The Lieutenant Governor remarks with pleasure the general efficiency of the work performed by the Superintendents and their staff throughout the year

Secretary to the Govt of Bengal.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1901

WEATHER conditions were more settled than usual almost throughout the month The shallow depressions which drift across the Province from west to east and cause the variable winds on which the occurrence of thunderstorms with rainfall depends were of rare occurrence In consequence rainfall was in defect in all parts of Bengal and Assam The deficiency in rainfall which is sufficiently noticeable in the western districts is much more marked in East Bengal and the south of Assam In the former less than half an inch on an average was received as compared with the normal amount of 2 6 inches, and at Silchar where the normal amount is more than 10 inches there was only 6 inch This deficiency was general over Assam Sibsagar receiving about 12 per cent and Dhubri 30 per cent of the normal

There was only one occasion of generally unsettled weather, and that about the end of the first week As in January and February while a shallow depression was over the Province a rapid rise of pressure began in the north east and checked the eastward movement of the depression usual in the early months of the year On the only occasion when this occurred in March pressure was slightly low on the 6th the rapid rise of pressure in Assam and North Bengal was reported on the 7th and at the same time a few local showers in the north eastern districts On the 8th when all trace of the depression had ceased general rain fell over almost the whole Province and was heaviest in the western districts The local disturbances which were so general between the 7th and 8th probably resulted from the change of winds caused by the advancing wave of rising pressure from the north east the irregularly cyclonic winds of the 6th being replaced by easterly winds on the 7th with a return to light irregular winds on the 8th

With the exception of the general rainfall between the 7th and 8th the month was almost entirely rainless During the latter half of the month a few showers occurred in the eastern districts and in Chota Nagpur but they were in all cases light and scattered

During February important temperature changes passed slowly across Northern India At the beginning of that month temperature was high in Bengal and low in the west of India The area of low temperature was slowly transferred eastward and in the latter part was over Bengal At the beginning of March therefore, temperature was low and as changes continued slow probably owing to the high pressure in the north west and the greater tendency for northerly winds to blow at a time when they are usually light and irregular, the early part of the month was marked by comparatively low temperature Mean temperature was below the normal except in the east till nearly the end of the third week after which southerly winds became stronger, temperature rose, and ordinary hot weather conditions prevailed till the end of month

At the beginning of the month pressure was rising slowly and the distribution was more of the cold season type than is usual at that time of the year The difference from the normal varied from excess of 05 inch in the Central districts to defect of 05 inch in the south west of the Bay The general wind circulation was still northerly though directions were more variable in the west of the Province and in consequence temperature was very low in the Western and Central districts Towards the east, the variation from the normal was smaller and in part of Assam there was excess A brisk to rapid rise on the 2nd caused the pressure distribution to become more of the cold season type, with a large excess over Bengal and though a fall set in immediately afterwards that arrangement continued with north westerly winds till the 5th, when the distribution was normal over both the Province and the Bay

On the 6th the continued fall of pressure caused a shallow depression to appear over the north of the Province with an irregular system of light cyclonic winds, but on the following day pressure was rising rapidly in the north-east, the area of lowest pressure was over the western districts and winds were everywhere easterly or south easterly Owing probably to these rapid changes of the pressure gradient and the wind system, local disturbances began in North Bengal and from there extended to other parts Bengal, so that rainfall was reported from nearly all stations on the 8th On the following day pressure had recovered the cold season type of distribution was restored, and temperature was again falling, these changes passing from west to east

What appears to have occurred during these days was as follows A slight depression formed over Bengal on the 6th accompanied or followed by the usual rapid rise of pressure in the north east which caused the area of lowest pressure to move westwards, but at the same time gave it a better defined form As soon as the rising pressure ceased the shallow depression moved eastward and was over the Province on the 8th the recovery of pressure following on the 9th from the west There were therefore, two sets of changes in the wind circulation the first of which on the 7th was the cause of most of the rainfall

For some days following the 9th a well marked pressure gradient obtained the highest pressure being in the west or north west and the lowest either over Burma or the south east of the Bay This arrangement continued till about the end of the second week, when the uniform distribution characteristic of the change of seasons became established, and temperature though still somewhat low was more nearly normal than it had been during any previous part of the month Winds were light and variable, and fine cloudless weather prevailed till about the end of the third week, when scattered showers began to fall in Chota Nagpur

These showers continued for some days in Chota Nagpur, and occasional light rainfall occurred in parts of Bengal Proper during the fourth week They were nowhere heavy and were probably due to the varying winds in an area of high and uniform pressure in which the small oscillations caused a noticeable change on the gradient As winds were southerly over the head of the Bay and in Lower Bengal, temperature had risen and was in large excess in the southern and central districts This period of high temperature was not of long duration, as winds again became westerly about the 25th with a rather quick fall of temperature It rose again though slowly and during the closing days ordinary hot weather conditions prevailed with mean temperature above the normal, except in the extreme western districts During these days there was a large excess of temperature in Assam

Pressure —Both in the early part of the month and again towards the end pressure was above the normal by rather large amounts over the Province while in the east of the Bay and in Burma there was normal or deficient pressure For a short time in the middle of the month the above arrangement was reversed

In consequence mean pressure for the month is 0 › to 06 inch above the normal in the Western and Central districts, the excess diminishing towards the south east, where it is 0 3 inch

At a time of the year when the distribution is very uniform variations such as are shown above have an important influence on the general weather The most noticeable results were the frequent westerly or north westerly instead of south westerly winds and the almost entire absence of disturbance

Temperature was low at the beginning of the month and owing to the wind system noticed above was more generally below than above the normal throughout the month Defect was at times large in the western districts and even after the southerly winds set in and temperature rose in the east there was still comparatively cool weather

The variation was chiefly in the day temperatures as shown by the means for the month The difference from the normal in maximum temperature ranged from excess of ɔ° in East Bengal and the south of Assam to defect of 3° in Chota Nagpur and South Bihar Night temperature was below the normal on an average for the month over the whole Province, and defect was greatest in East Bengal

Mean excess was 1° in East Bengal and half a degree in Assam Elsewhere there was defect ranging from less than half a degree in North Bengal to more than 2 in Chota Nagpur

Rainfall was much lighter than usual in all parts except Bihar, which received very nearly the usual amount There was only one occasion of general disturbance about the end of the first week when light showers fell in the eastern districts and rainfall in moderate amount occurred in the west The scattered showers which fell in Chota Nagpur and part of Bengal Proper towards the end of the month were in all cases light and unimportant

South West Bengal received only 10 per cent North and East Bengal about 20 per cent Chota Nagpur about 3) per cent, Orissa 40 and Bihar about 80 per cent of the normal amount

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of March 1901 —

The mean pressure, temperature &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination even if he is more than 2? years of age and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it, but if he is not already in pensionable service he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

The candidate should apply to an Examiner of Public Works Accounts not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination and obtain his consent to conduct the examination if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates, and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Examiner.

Certificates may be submitted in original or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

5. Passed candidates should apply not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Accountant General, Public Works Department, but direct to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments, preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the fourth grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

Approximate position lat 15° 38 N, long 42 22 E

(c) A reef extends in a northerly direction from the north point of Kotama island for a distance of about 2 miles

Reefs to the southward

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 226 of 1901) that the master of the British ship Springbank reports that on the 11th September 1900 his vessel struck at night on a reef lying about 11 or 12 miles south eastward of Lisiansky island This reef which is of considerable extent was partially examined by the master of the Springbank, as the ship was entangled by shoals for 14 days in it is an opening to the eastward forming a bay encumbered with shoals, 3 miles deep

As reefs have been previously reported in a south easterly direction from Lisiansky island and soundings obtained of from 15 to 20 fathoms in from 25 43 to 26° 3 north latitude and 173 19 to 173° 22 west longitude it is probable that a large bank extends for about 30 miles from Lisiansky on which are coral reefs Vessels consequently should approach Lisiansky from the southward and eastward with great caution

Approximate position of shoal, lat 25° 50 N, long 173° 45 W

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

Reefs to the southward

The British Admiralty has given notice (No 226 of 1901) that the master of the British ship Springbank reports that on the 11th September 1900 his vessel struck at night on a reef lying about 11 or 12 miles south eastward of Lisiansky island This reef which is of considerable extent was partially examined by the master of the Springbank, as the ship was entangled by shoals for 11 days in it is an opening to the eastward forming a bay encumbered with shoals 3 miles deep

As reefs have been previously reported in a south easterly direction from Lisiansky island, and soundings obtained of from 15 to 20 fathoms in from 25° 43′ to 26° 3′ north latitude, and 173° 10′ to 173° 22′ west longitude, it is probable that a large bank extends for about 50 miles from Lisiansky on which are coral reefs Vessels consequently should approach Lisiansky from the southward and eastward with great caution

R B BUCKLEY
Secy to the Govt of Bengal

No $\frac{8 R}{1 - M}$ dated Calcutta, the 29th March 1901

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India Finance and Commerce Department

READ—

Letter in the Finance and Commerce Department No 64 28 R dated the 30th October 1900 with enclosure

Read also—

Letter from the Government of Bengal	No 231 (Marine) dated the 20th November 1900
	Burma	409—45 dated the 14th December 1900
	Madras	23 Marine) dated the 11th January 1901
	Bombay	13C dated the 16th January 1901

OBSERVATIONS—In the letter in the Finance and Commerce Department above cited Maritime Local Governments were asked how the law on the subject of apprenticing Eurasians to sea service has been interpreted in practice and whether as a matter of fact Eurasians have been refused apprenticeship

The replies show that very few Eurasians have presented themselves for apprenticeship in past years but the law on the subject is differently interpreted in different provinces In Calcutta the provision made in section 2 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act (V of 1883) for the employment of native seamen is understood to be applicable to Eurasians and they are not allowed to be shipped as seamen without a stipulation providing for their return to British India

The Government of India are of opinion that the words Native Seamen as used in the section above mentioned should not be held to include Statutory Natives but should be read in the ordinary meaning of the word Native as referring to the indigenous as opposed to the European or Eurasian inhabitants of India The law as it at present stands does not preclude the apprenticing of Eurasians to sea service or prevent their being shipped as seamen on merchant vessels on the same terms as Europeans and there is no legal bar to their being so employed

RESOLUTION—His Excellency the Governor General in Council considers it undesirable that any restrictions should be imposed by the executive orders of Local Governments on the employment of Eurasians on merchant vessels and any instructions on the subject which it may be thought advisable to issue to Port Officers, should be reported for the previous approval of the Government of India

ORDER—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to the Governments of Madras Bombay, Bengal and Burma

PACIFIC OCEAN—LISIANSKY ISLAND

Reefs to the southward

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No 226 of 1901) that the master of the British ship Springbank reports that on the 11th September 1900 his vessed struck at night on a reef lying about 11 or 12 miles south eastward of Lisiansky island This reef, which is of considerable extent was partially examined by the master of the Springbank, as the ship was entangled by shoals for 14 days in it is an opening to the eastward forming a bay encumbered with shoals, 3 miles deep

As reefs have been previously reported in a south easterly direction from Lisiansky island and soundings obtained of from 15 to 20 fathoms in from 25° 43 to 26° 3 north latitude, and 173 19 to 173° 22′ west longitude it is probable that a large bank extends for about 30 miles from Lisiansky on which are coral reefs Vessels consequently should approach Lisiansky from the southward and eastward with great caution

CAUTION —The longitude of Lisiansky island has not yet been satisfactorily ascertained It is said to be east of the position shown on the chart, viz, 173° 57 W

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory) The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore 003 lower The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0 2 lower, and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0 6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF APRIL 1901

DURING the greater part of April ordinary hot season conditions were generally prevalent While there was a greater absence than usual of any widespread or general disturbance such as not unfrequently occurs during the hot season and is due to the eastward passage of a depression which has originated in North Western India there were considerable local changes at times Pressure temperature and wind directions underwent rather larger and sudden variations and with these changes there was a tendency to the formation of local disturbances and scattered rainfall These variations were particularly noticeable in the east and more especially in Assam where in the course of a day or two temperature would change from being considerably in excess to being as much in defect

In ordinary conditions these changes would probably be connected with disturbed weather over a wide area, and with a more or less established state of the atmosphere, it may be of the higher levels and the irregularities of the past month would consequently be due to that month being a time of change from one set of established conditions to another Indications that some such change is in progress are sufficiently strong and particularly as regards rainfall though the change being probably on a much larger scale than what is usually noticed under the title of weather it is slow in its development

For some months a noticeable feature of the weather in the north and east has been the absence of rainfall an absence which for the month under review has been only partial All divisions of the Province have received more than their normal amount except North Bengal and Bihar where however, compared with the normal there has been a considerable deficiency In Assam, where of late months rainfall has been much in defect there has been a very marked improvement more especially in Cachar where as shown by the reports published for Silchar, there has been a considerable excess Silchar received 7 3 inches during April which is about 2 inches below the amount usual in that month

Assuming therefore in explanation of the irregularities noticed above that an important general change is in process which will take some time to establish and which is probably not in any way connected with the approaching monsoon season it merely remains to notice the more marked oscillations in the various meteorological elements Almost throughout the month the daily oscillations were more abrupt than is usual in settled weather and with these sudden changes local disturbances with light scattered rainfall were of not unfrequent occurrence, except in Bihar But there was one period of more marked disturbance about the end of the third week, when pressure was low over Bengal, and the greater part of the rainfall of the month occurred

At the beginning of the month the pressure distribution was very nearly normal over both the Bay and the Province There was a general small excess which diminished from the south west of the Bay north eastward and was practically zero in the south of Assam Winds were westerly or south westerly, except in the northern districts and temperature was usually 1° or 2 in excess This pressure arrangement had followed a general brisk fall over the northern districts and as there was a brisk rise in the north east on the 2nd the north easterly winds extended southwards as far as Chota Nagpur The cyclonic circulation of winds was accompanied by local disturbances with fairly general light rainfall in North and East Bengal, and a large reduction of temperature over the whole Province On the 4th and 5th the pressure distribution was uniform, winds were light and westerly inland, and temperature was recovering in the east

On the 6th a brisk fall of pressure began in the east and extended westward, being greatest in the western districts on the 7th but there was little change in the general weather conditions With the exception of a few light scattered showers the rainfall was confined to the extreme east, where there was again a considerable reduction of temperature From the 8th to the 11th settled conditions prevailed, with pressure normal, winds west or south west, except in the east, and temperature in small excess

On the 12th pressure fell briskly and unsettled weather recommenced but again it was chiefly in the extreme east, as very little rain fell in any part of Bengal On the 14th Silchar received about 4 and on the 15th 2 inches of rain Between the 12th and 15th a shallow depression was over Bengal, with a steep gradient to the south, and the winds in the north west angle of the Bay attained to the greatest strength recorded during April At Saugor Island the average velocity on the 13th was 33 and on the 15th 30 miles an hour This depression to a great extent filled up on the 16th and 17th, when there was an almost normal distribution over the Bay and the Province The greatest defect was then 06 inch in the extreme north

On the 18th the fall of pressure began, which was the first indication of the disturbed weather at the end of the third week The fall commenced in Assam and extended westward, being general over the Province on the 19th This was followed by a rise on the 20th and a steep gradient over Bengal on the 21st The rainfall which began on the 18th was in the early stage of the disturbance most general but only light in Lower Bengal After the changes had passed westward, the rainfall ceased as the 20th was practically without rain, except in Orissa and Chota Nagpur Between the 18th and 21st the daily changes were such as usually occur when a shallow depression is moving from east to west over the Province

On the 21st a reversal of these changes began and between that date and the 23rd a shallow depression was moving from west to east with a tendency southward In consequence of the frequent changes in the wind circulation due to the movement of the depression being first from east to west and then from west to east thunderstorms with more or less heavy rain were of daily occurrence in the southern and eastern districts, and it was not till the 24th that settled weather was fairly general

During the last week pressure was high over the Province and as it was relatively low over the Bay, the gradient was not so steep as usual Wind force fell off and temperature rose till there was again a large excess in the north east but there was continuous cool weather for the season in the south western districts Though pressure was high, weather was not so settled as is usual in such circumstances Local storms continued and were at times fairly numerous in the southern districts up to the end of the month

Pressure changes were never large, but owing to the somewhat unsettled state of the atmosphere almost throughout the month the oscillations were larger than usually occur except when weather is being influenced by a disturbance of some magnitude The variation from the normal was also less regular and continuous in either direction than usual and consequently the averages for the month are practically normal In the western districts there is a slight excess and elsewhere a slight defect generally under 0.2 inch

Temperature was generally above the normal in the early part of the month and again towards the end while about the end of the third week there was a period of cool weather which followed the general disturbance of that time The low temperatures then prevalent slowly disappeared after the rise of pressure on the 24th except in the south west where there was a continuous defect especially on the last day of the month

The variation as usually happens during the hot season, was much greater in the day than in the night as the occurrence of cloudy weather is followed by a large reduction in the maximum reading with probably little or no change in the minimum reading

The average variation for April from the normal maximum temperature ranges from defect of 2°.5 at Chaibassa to excess of 5° in part of North Bengal The variation from the normal minimum is much smaller there being a general small excess except in the northern districts, where there is a small defect

The average mean excess for the month is 2°.4 in North Bengal 1°.8 in East Bengal and a little under 1° in South West Bengal In other parts of the Province and Assam the variation is small

Rainfall—Scattered showers were more frequent than usual except in Bihar and North Bengal but these showers were in many cases light and scattered and did not add materially to the total for the month except what fell at the end of the third week when moderately heavy rainfall was general in the east and south of the Province In East Bengal the fall was more than half an inch in excess in South West Bengal the average excess was .8 inch, and in Orissa .4 inch, while in Bihar about one sixth of the usual amount fell, and in North Bengal a little over 1 inch instead of the usual amount of 3 inches

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of April 1901 —

The mean pressure temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

The mouth of the rain gauge is one foot above the ground

MEDICAL

Dated Darjeeling, the 14th May 1901

READ—

Letter from the Inspector General of Police No 4430, dated the 20th/23rd April 1901, reporting on the working of the Chittagong Pilgrim Camp during the season 1900 1901

As in previous years, the Inspector General of Police, Lower Provinces, was placed in charge of the arrangements for despatching pilgrims to the Hedjaz from the port of Chittagong during the season 1900 1901, and the report submitted by him describing the arrangements made for this purpose is published herewith for general information By the orders of the Government of India, pilgrimage was at first permitted, so far as Bengal was concerned, from the Chittagong Division only Subsequently, however, on the representation of the Muhammadan Literary Society of Calcutta, which was supported by this Government, the orders were so far modified as to permit of the pilgrimage being made from the Chota Nagpur, Orissa, Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions also.

2 The pilgrim camp at Chittagong was opened on 1st December 1900 and the total number of pilgrims despatched was 2,270, of whom 1,7[illegible]1 were from Bengal alone. They were sent in four steamers, the Ashruf, which sailed on the 3rd January 1901 with 629 pilgrims, the Taher, which sailed on the 27th January with 692 pilgrims, the Akbar, which sailed on the 16th February with 495 pilgrims, and the Mohammadi, which sailed on the 17th February with 454 pilgrims. As the 17th February was the latest date for sailing, and no pilgrims who left Chittagong after that date could reach the Hedjaz in time for the pilgrimage, the pilgrim camp was then closed.

3 In order to prevent pilgrims from obtaining admission into the Chittagong camp by giving false addresses, the Inspector General of Police suggests that intending pilgrims should be required to obtain before starting for Chittagong, a certificate of residence from the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Officer of the district or subdivision in which they permanently reside, bearing the left thumb impression of the person to whom it is issued. The suggestion commends itself to the Lieutenant Governor, and the Government of India will be requested to sanction its adoption in the provinces from which pilgrimage may be permitted in future years. The proposal of the Magistrate to open a temporary station at the camp at which pilgrims can be detained without entering the town is also approved. The proposal made by the Inspector General to restrict the sale of railway tickets to Chittagong to such of the intending pilgrims only as have received the abovementioned certificates seems to the Lieutenant Governor to be impracticable, and he is unable to sanction it.

4 The number of pilgrims despatched from Chittagong shows a progressive annual increase, the numbers being as follows :—

1897 98	708	1899 1900	1,8[illegible]
1898 99	1,146	1900 1901	2,2[illegible]0

The increasing numbers may constitute a danger to Chittagong, which is the only important port in Bengal now free from plague. In view of this the Magistrate has proposed that additional accommodation, which should be of the nature of an "observation camp" should be put up outside the pilgrim camp proper for the occupation of intending pilgrims for whom there is no room in the camp itself. This will be considered after the Inspector General of Police has visited Chittagong and discussed matters with the local authorities and the Sanitary Commissioner.

5 The thanks of the Lieutenant Governor are due to the Inspector General of Police and to the gentlemen named by him for the excellent manner in which they carried out the work.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution, as well as the Report from the Inspector General of Police on the subject of the pilgrimage arrangements, be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of the Resolution and of the Report be submitted to the Government of India for information.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

F. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 4430, dated Calcutta, the [illegible] April 1901.

From—W. R. BRIGHT, ESQ., C.S.I., I.C.S., Inspector General of Police, L. P.
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal (Medical) Dept.

I HAVE the honour to report on the working of the Chittagong Pilgrim Camp during the season 1900 1901.

2 Under the terms of India Government, Home Department, Notification No. 2615, dated the 26th Oct[illegible] [illegible], all Indian por[illegible], except Kurachi [illegible]

Sind and Chittagong in the Lower Provinces, were closed to pilgrims for Mecca, and it was decided that Chittagong should be the port of embarkation for pilgrims from Bengal, Assam, Burma and the eastern portion of the North Western Provinces and Oudh. The arrangements for the despatch of pilgrims from Chittagong were, as in the past three seasons, placed in my charge by Bengal Government (Municipal Department) letter No. 9241—P., dated the 5th November 1900.

The pilgrimage for this season was at first closed against residents of the Bombay Presidency (excluding Sind), the Madras Presidency, the Mysore State, Coorg, the Jullunder district of the Punjab, and Bengal excepting the Chittagong Division. Subsequently, by India Government letter No. 5032, dated the 22nd December 1900, the prohibition against residents of the Dacca, Rajshahi, Chota Nagpur and Orissa Divisions was withdrawn.

3. (a) The work of repairing the existing camp at Chittagong was commenced in September last at an estimated cost of Rs. 4,017, and was completed in good time. The camp was originally designed to accommodate 800 pilgrims, and proved sufficient so long as the complement of passengers for a single steamer had to be dealt with, but when permission was received at the end of December, as mentioned above, to admit residents of Dacca, Rajshahi, Chota Nagpur and Orissa, there was a rush of pilgrims from some of those Divisions, and it was found necessary to increase the accommodation, in order that all intending pilgrims might be shipped in time to arrive at Mecca before the principal day of the pilgrimage, which this year fell on the 29th March.

(b) Accordingly 11 additional barracks were constructed, and it was thus possible to deal at the same time with the complement of pilgrims for the two last steamers, which were despatched within a day of one another.

(c) The camp, as it then stood, had accommodation for 1,500 pilgrims. A sum of Rs. 9,147 was expended on the additions to the camp, including the construction, at the instance of the Collector of Chittagong, of three sheds on the west of the railway line, which were provided on the recommendation of the Sanitary Commissioner for pilgrims awaiting admission to the camp.

(d) The land on which the camp proper stands belongs to the Assam Bengal Railway Company, which has kindly placed it temporarily at the disposal of Government, but the sheds mentioned above, on the further side of the railway line, are on a piece of arable land, about 20 acres in extent, which, it would appear from the District Magistrate's report forwarded to Government under the Commissioner's memorandum No. 501, dated the 8th February 1901, has been taken over in an informal manner, and regarding which it is necessary now to decide whether it shall be given up or regularly acquired.

The questions raised by the Commissioner are fully discussed in paragraph 12 of this report dealing with the conservancy of the camp.

4. On receipt of the orders of Government permitting the pilgrimage for this season, the usual notice in English, Bengali and Urdu was circulated through the agency of the Police in the tract from which pilgrimage was permitted. Copies were also sent to the several Muhammadan Associations. The notice mentioned the approximate date of sailing of the pilgrim steamers and the conditions as to segregation, &c., imposed on intending pilgrims. The fare from Chittagong to Jeddah, including diet, was at first fixed at Rs. 80 per head. This rate was adhered to for all the pilgrims who travelled by the first steamer. The fare was later reduced to Rs. 75, and was maintained at that figure till the close of the season.

The pilgrims were also required to deposit with the Superintendent the amount of the railway and steamer fare for the return journey from the port of debarkation to their homes.

A further charge of Rs. 3 per head for the fixed dues payable at Camaran and Jeddah was made on the pilgrims this year for the first time under Government order No. 3136M., dated the 22nd December 1900. This money was handed over to the Agents of the Steamship Companies who arranged for its payment to the Turkish authorities through the masters of the pilgrim vessels.

Mr. K. B. Thomas, my Personal Assistant, was entrusted with the business relating to steamers and of fixing the date of sailing in consultation with the Superintendent of the Camp and the Steamer Agents The steamers engaged in order of their sailing were the Ashruf, Lahri and Akbar belonging to Haji Kasim Yusuf of Bombay, and the Mohammadi of the Bombay Persia Steam Navigation Company's fleet

The sale of tickets and collection of the return journey fares and the fixed dues payable to the Turkish authorities was carried out by the Superintendent of the Camp

5 A guard of 3 head constables and 22 constables was deputed, as in former years, from surrounding districts for duty at the camp, in addition to the camp guard of 1 head constable and 4 constables sanctioned in Government order No 2741 – P, dated the 23rd June 1899 With the extension of the camp to accommodate 1,500 pilgrims, the guard was strengthened by 2 head constables and 15 constables drawn from other districts As no extra force was entertained to replace the men so deputed, the policing of the camp did not involve any extra cost to Government on account of salary The officers and men (all Muhammadans) were given free rations instead of batta, as was done in previous years

6 The following ministerial and menial establishments were sanctioned by Government order No 2706M, dated the 19th November 1900 —

		Rs
1 Clerk on Rs 60	per mensem	60
1 Godown muharrir on Rs 40	ditto	40
1 Compounder on Rs 11	ditto	11
1 Head sweeper on Rs 12	ditto	12
10 Sweepers on Rs 10	each per mensem	100
2 Sweeper women on Rs 8	ditto	16
4 Cooks on Rs 10	ditto	40
	Total	279

Owing to the enlargement of the camp, a second clerk, mentioned in Government order No 468M, dated the 20th February 1901 was engaged from the 24th January 1901 on Rs 30 per mensem His pay was reduced however, from the 1st February to Rs 15 per mensem Under orders of Government, an Assistant Surgeon was deputed to have medical charge of the camp

7 The camp opened on the 1st December 1900 The arrangements for diet, water supply, lighting and conservancy were the same as in previous years A full description has been given in previous reports and need not be repeated here The women were, as in previous years, allotted separate buildings, with their own privies, bathing platforms and drinking water hydrants, the whole enclosed by a high fence to ensure privacy It was necessary, in view of the increased number of pilgrims admitted towards the close of the season, to sink another well to supplement the supply from the two existing wells The Deputy Sanitary Commissioner remarked in his inspection reports that the covers of the wells were defective, and that there was risk of contamination owing to the pilgrims using their own buckets &c, to draw The Executive Engineer, Dacca Division, will be asked to provide proper covers with padlocks before the next pilgrim season

8 The supply of food was entrusted to a contractor selected by the District Superintendent of Police, Chittagong His rates were inspected daily by the Assistant Surgeon

The scale of rations was as follows —

Bengalis per diem per head	Chittaks	Up-country men per diem per head	Chittaks
Rice	10½	Flour	12
Dal	3	Ghee	1
Vegetables	4	Vegetables	4
Mustard oil	0¼	Meat	6
Salt	0*	Salt	0½†
Condiments	0¼	Condiments	0¼
Onions	0½	Onions	0½
Meat	3 twice a week

* Reduced to ½ chittak from 13th December 1900

† Reduced to ½ chittak from 8th January 1901

The food was cooked before issue. Luxuries, such as poultry, tobacco, tea, &c, were obtainable from the contractor at market rates.

9 The number of pilgrims despatched during the season was 2,270. Some 500 others were turned back to their homes owing to the loss of the S S Kaisari, in which they were to have sailed. No other steamer could be procured at the time.

In the preceding years the numbers despatched were as follows —

1897 98—From Raniganj camp	708
1898 99—From Chittagong camp	1 446
1899 1900—From Chittagong camp	1,879

The progressive increase indicates that the objections, if any, which previously existed, to the restrictions imposed on the pilgrimage since 1897, when the system of camps was first started, are rapidly disappearing.

The date of sailing of the steamers and the usual information regarding age, sex and nationality of the pilgrims are given below in tabular form —

Date of sailing	Name of Steamer	Infants	Children under 1[illegible]	Under 45 Females	Under 45 Males	Over 45 Females	Over 45 Males	Total

Details are given below regarding the number of pilgrims supplied by the different countries and provinces —

North Western Provinces	37
Assam	266
Bengal	1 791
Total	2,2[illegible]0

10 (a) [illegible] pilgrims despatched, two spent the period of 10 days' segregation [illegible] of other provinces, and were then sent to Chittagong by rail in [illegible] compartments which were previously disinfected. The others were [illegible] in the Chittagong camp for not less than 10 days.

(b) The [illegible] and wearing apparel of the pilgrims were carefully disinfected before admission. All cotton stuffs were steeped in a solution of [illegible] of mercury and then boiled in a Larymore boiler of the pattern used in [illegible] jails. Woollen clothing and articles liable to injury by boiling were [illegible] chamber and subjected to a temperature of over 23[illegible] [illegible] 0 minut[illegible]

(c) [illegible] Sanitary Commissioner, who visited the camp on the 24th January, [illegible] the inadequacy of the disinfecting apparatus. If the camp is to be maintained at Chittagong for another season, it will be necessary to provide another boiler and a large "equifex" disinfector for the coming season

(d) On the date of sailing the pilgrims were, as usual, taken by special train from the camp to the riverside

(e) The first three steamers were unable, on account of their draught, to enter the river, and the pilgrims had to be conveyed to the mouth of the river in local craft towed by a steam tug or on a tender

(f) The Mohammadi was able to come alongside the wharf at Chittagong, and the pilgrims went on board direct from the train

11 (a) It was found this year that intending pilgrims from prohibited districts had gained admission to the camp by representing that they were residents of districts from which pilgrimage was permitted

(b) This matter was brought to notice, and under orders of the Government of India, conveyed in your letter No 3103 $\frac{\text{Md}}{\text{I}}$, dated the 28th December 1900, all such persons were turned out of the camp I was directed also in that letter to report whether any means could be devised to prevent similar evasion of orders in future The only way I see is that it should be laid down in the regulations for the next season that intending pilgrims shall before starting for Chittagong, obtain a certificate of residence from the District Magistrate or Subdivisional Officer of the district or subdistrict in which they permanently reside, that the certificate shall bear the left thumb impression of the person to whom it is issued, and that without such certificate no person will be admitted to the camp, or be supplied with a railway ticket It will be necessary at the same time to instruct officers empowered to issue certificates to ascertain from the Superintendent of the Camp that accommodation is available in the camp and to regulate the issue of certificates accordingly

(c) The sale of railway tickets to Chittagong might also be restricted, in the case of intending pilgrims, to those who have received certificates from the District Magistrate On this point, however, I should like to consult some of the chief Muhammadan gentlemen to see if this plan would be feasible If desired, I will do so and report the result

12 In your letter No 521 $\frac{\text{Mdl}}{\text{I}}$, dated the 28th February 1901, I was directed to discuss certain proposals put forward by the District Magistrate and the Commissioner of Chittagong for the management of the future camps with a view to lessen the risk of introducing plague or other infectious diseases into the town and district of Chittagong through the annual influx of pilgrims who, while awaiting admission into the camp, have been in the habit of living in the bazars of Chittagong town or, as happened during the last season, in temporary huts run up in the fields to the west of the camp and separated from it only by the strip of land enclosed within the railway fencing

The proposals are—

(1) to open a temporary station at the camp at which all intending pilgrims shall detrain and to prohibit their entry into the town of Chittagong,

(2) to put up temporary accommodation for 600 pilgrims outside the camp proper, but under control of the Superintendent of the Camp and his conservancy staff, in order that pilgrims awaiting admission to the camp may be housed under proper sanitary conditions

I am entirely in accord with the local officials in their first proposal It appears from the correspondence that, during the past season, the Railway authorities arranged to detrain pilgrims at the camp There should be no difficulty in making similar arrangements for the next season

As regards the second proposal, i e, to construct an "observation camp," within which intending pilgrims, who after arrival cannot be accommodated in the main camp, are to be kept, I think that some such camp should be advisable if it is considered that we should safeguard Chittagong The size would depend upon the extent to which we can regulate arrivals As I believe it has been found impracticable to arrange dates beforehand for the departure of steamers, there will always be some people who will arrive within the ten days'

quarantine enforced before the departure of the steamer, and for these it would be well to have a camp I do not know the area of land at present occupied by our camp, though I have a map of it, and I therefore do not know how many people can be accommodated there The camp has recently been almost, if not quite, entirely destroyed by fire, and, in view of the sanitary defects disclosed in the Sanitary Commissioner's note, it would be advisable to take the opportunity afforded by its destruction to lay it out on sanitary principles I would suggest that, as the matter is by no means urgent, this part of the whole question and the question of construction of an observation camp might stand over until the rains, when I could visit the place and discuss matters with the local authorities and the Sanitary Commissioner, if necessary

13 The Assistant Surgeon examined all pilgrims before admitting them into the camp There was no death among the pilgrims in the camp, though in January there were five deaths from cholera amongst intending pilgrims awaiting admission to the camp The huts, in which these cases occurred, were immediately burnt down and no further cases occurred Towards the end of January there was an outbreak among the coolies working in the camp erecting new barracks Timely precautions were taken, and the disease did not spread to the pilgrims

About the same time, a case of small pox occurred among the pilgrims The patient was at once removed to the segregation hut, from where he was removed by his friends

The general health of the pilgrims was good except for a few cases of fever

14 The camp was closed on the 17th February when the last batch of pilgrims embarked The police guards from the neighbouring districts were sent back, and the staff of sweepers and cooks was discharged on the following day The property of the camp was, as usual, made over to the Collector of Chittagong for safe custody

15 I have much pleasure in acknowledging the despatch with which the Executive Engineer, Dacca Division, and his subordinates carried out the work of repairs to, and extension of, the camp

Messrs R B Hyde, T C Simpson and E R Ezechiel, Assistant District Superintendents of Police, held charge of the Camp at different times These officers seem to have worked satisfactorily Each received an allowance of Rs 100 a month as sanctioned by Government during the period he remained in charge

16 A statement of expenditure incurred on the camp will be submitted to Government later on, in a complete form, after verification by the Accountant General At present I am in communication with all officers concerned, who have had to deal with expenditure in connection with the camp, with a view to incorporating their accounts in those of the Superintendent, for transmission to Government
